Historiciser Stonewall. Émeutes, résistance et révolution / Historicizing Stonewall: Riots, Resistance, and Revolution

Marc Stein*<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup>San Francisco State University – États-Unis

Résumé

English

Marc Stein is the Jamie and Phyllis Pasker Professor of History at San Francisco State University. He is the author of City of Sisterly and Brotherly Loves: Lesbian and Gay Philadelphia (University of Chicago Press, 2000), Sexual Injustice: Supreme Court Decisions from Griswold to Roe (University of North Carolina Press, 2010), Rethinking the Gay and Lesbian Movement (Routledge, 2012), and The Stonewall Riots: A Documentary History (NYU Press, 2019). He also served as editor-in-chief of the Encyclopedia of LGBT History in America (Scribners, 2003) and guest editor of the "U.S. Homophile Internationalism" special issue of the Journal of Homosexuality (2017). He is currently the vice chair of the San Francisco-based GLBT Historical Society.

In this presentation, historian Marc Stein, author of The Stonewall Riots: A Documentary History (NYU Press, 2019), explores several of the most influential frameworks that have been developed to interpret the LGBTQ rebellion of 1969. In particular, he considers diverse perspectives on what happened during the Stonewall Riots, competing explanations for why they occurred, conflicting arguments about how they mattered, and critical questions about who today lays claim to the legacy of the rebellion.
